

Imagine!

December

Imagine what it is like being forced to leave your home. In truth, we don't need much imagination at present. We can see the pictures of the refugee camps all around the borders of Syria, and the migrants arriving in overcrowded boats on the shores of Mediterranean countries. We can see them moving across Europe. We know that our own community will be asked to receive Syrian refugees in the coming months and years. If we want to imagine what it is like being forced to leave your home, all we have to do is look at the despair on the faces of our contemporary refugees. I am glad and sad that we are giving our Christmas offerings to various appeals to help refugees, and that at our gift service we are collecting for the Whitechapel Mission to help the homeless in London.

Think of the Christmas story as it is imagined by both Luke and Matthew. Luke imagines Jesus' family uprooted from their home in Nazareth at the decree of the Roman Emperor to travel to Bethlehem, and when they arrive in Bethlehem, the only accommodation they can find for Jesus when he is born is a feeding box for animals. Imagine our contemporary refugees and then imagine the Christmas story again. Matthew imagines Jesus and his family uprooted because of the jealousy of a king and forced to flee into exile in Egypt. The holy family become refugees thrown upon the mercy of strangers in a foreign land. Imagine our contemporary refugees and then imagine the Christmas story again.

Why should we imagine the Christmas story in this way? It is because it saves our celebration of Christmas from becoming bland and comfortable; the Christmas story imagines the peace of God coming into the world through the vulnerable baby and living among the mess of the world and the disorder in our lives. Imagine God sharing our despair and trouble in the infant Christ; and in that moment of wonder, imagine the touch of healing for our wounds, a word of forgiveness for the hurt we cause each other, and being embraced by consolation in our sorrow. Imagine despair turning to hope and sadness into joy; and then with open hearts welcome Christ again.

God bless you all this Christmas and into the New Year.

Care Time

We pray for Iris and Dave Evans on the death of Iris' Uncle Bill, for all those who are grieving at this time, and for those who will be spending their first Christmas alone, or without loved ones; for the Churches Together in Stansted Messy Church on 6th December; for Colin Finbow undergoing chemotherapy, and for others in our wider church family who need our prayers.

EXCHANGE

A new ministry based at Bishop's Stortford Baptist Church - for people to pass on things they don't need to people who do. In Bishop's Stortford there is a need for good quality children's clothing, toys and household goods for those with limited incomes. Tents and sleeping bags are needed for the homeless. Many of us also have things at home we never use, but someone else might treasure. They need babies', children's and young people's clothes, toys, games and children's books. In addition to passing on items free of charge, Exchange will also provide a warm welcome and a hot drink, and ask if they can help in any other ways. It is open on Tuesdays 1.30 - 3.30 pm. If you have items to donate, please take them to the Exchange room at the Baptist Church during these times, or contact Julia Horner on 07955 140293. Please do not leave donated items outside the gates or in the main church building. Any items donated which are not passed on within a reasonable time may be taken to local charity shops.

Prayer Requests

www.eastherstsymca.com

Please pray for:

- the vulnerable young people struggling with mental health issues, especially depression, anxiety, post-traumatic stress disorder, and self-harm, that they may find relief, peace, hope, and healing
- as we approach the Christmas season, those who are homeless and have little or no family support may find safety and security and a sense of belonging;
- two young people with very high-risk profiles - one who has been with us 11 months and the other who has been with us for 8 weeks - that they may continue to find stability and motivation so that they can begin to heal and move on in their life journey
- our healthy eating cooking course, that residents will attend and learn valuable skills that will serve them when they successfully move-on into the community

Thank you all for your prayer support which is so valuable to us and a real source of encouragement. For further information please tel 01279 838068 or email: robert.purcell@eastherstsymca.com
